Montana Freedom Caucus Thanks Voters for Standing Up for Conservative Values

Helena, MT — The Montana Freedom Caucus thanks Montana voters for standing up for conservative values and electing more conservatives to the Montana Legislature, helping nearly double the caucus.

Across Montana, voters, volunteers, and families worked to elect legislators committed to constitutional government, fiscal responsibility, individual liberty, and accountability. Their efforts have strengthened the conservative voice in Helena and created an opportunity to turn campaign promises into legislative action.

To every Montanan who knocked on doors, made phone calls, encouraged a neighbor to vote, or cast a ballot for principled conservative representation: thank you. This growth belongs to the citizens who put in the work and expect their elected servants to follow through.

An expanded Montana Freedom Caucus means more legislators working together to fix our property tax problem, defend private property rights, demand responsible spending, protect parental rights, and preserve the freedoms guaranteed by our state and federal constitutions.

The caucus recognizes that electoral success brings responsibility. Montanans deserve measurable results, transparent government, and representatives who remember whom they serve. Earning a vote is the first step in that obligation.

As the next legislative session approaches, the Montana Freedom Caucus will work to translate this increased support into policies that respect taxpayers, strengthen families, and protect liberty.

Montana voters stood up. Now it is our responsibility to show up, keep our word, and get to work.
